

UNU-CRIS PhD Series Blog Submission Guidelines

- The publication should include the title of the PhD Thesis.
- The publication must include a topic summary and a 2-3 sentence overview of the post, such as those found here.
- The word count of the blog publication should ideally be 800 words. UNU-CRIS reserves the right to allow the limits to be exceeded, depending on the nature of the piece.
- All blogs are to be written in consistent British English. Translations of posts originally written in another language are accepted for consideration.
- All referencing is to be done through in-text hyperlinks.
- Tables, schemes, diagrams and figures may be incorporated into the text. The visualisation of key information is encouraged.
- Subheadings should be included in the text.
- The authors should attach a recent photo and a link to a biography/profile/social media account.
